Mobile Operators

Mobile Operator Revenue (MUSD)

As mobile operators face increasing downward pressure on average voice revenue per subscriber, and as competition heightens, operators around the world are looking for new sources of revenue, differentiation via data services and network performance/quality, and solutions to manage the explosion of mobile video and multi-media data network traffic spurred by the rapid adoption of smartphones and tablets.

Opera is a trusted partner for operators globally. The Company currently offers four major cloud based solutions and services to Operators worldwide: (i) Operator/Co-branded versions of Opera Mini, whereby Operators are able to offer their mass market subscribers content compression, fast Internet download speeds, convenient access to operator portal services in order to drive incremental revenue, and lower priced data plans and data packages, capitalizing on the up 90% data compression that Opera's cloud services enables; (ii) Skyfire Rocket Optimizer™, which allows mobile operators to leverage cloud computing to optimize and compress video and other multimedia traffic on crowded cell towers, including 3G and 4G LTE networks, enabling operators to both boost the capacity of their networks by up to 60% and offer better network performance and quality to their subscribers; (iii) Skyfire Horizon™, a mobile browser extension and toolbar platform that allows users to personalize their smartphone browser and operators to gain new monetization opportunities, such as advertising; and (iv) Opera WebPass, which allows users to easily buy time-based or content-based mobile data packages through a simple, one-click purchase, similar to how users buy apps today, enabling operators to both offer a broad array of personalized data package alternatives for their subscribers and increase average revenue generated per subscriber.

Revenue for Operator Opera Mini and Skyfire Horizon™ is driven by active users of the respective products on the mobile operator's network and can also include revenue share on data, advertising and m-Commerce.

Skyfire Rocket Optimizer™ is offered to global operators under a revenue model that includes a platform fee for the core Rocket Optimizer™ technology and a network capacity fee that is tied to the operator's traffic levels. Revenue that Opera generates from WebPass is based on a revenue share with the operator based on actual WebPass data purchases.

At the end of 1Q13, Opera had active agreements with 48 operators worldwide (total of 120+ agreements when including all subsidiaries of global frame agreements signed), including 18 out of the top 30 operators worldwide, which have approximately 2.6 billion subscribers combined or more than 40% of the total global subscriber base. These customer figures also include Skyfire's customer list. Skyfire itself counts three large U.S. mobile operators as customers for its Rocket Optimizer™ and Skyfire Horizon™ solutions.

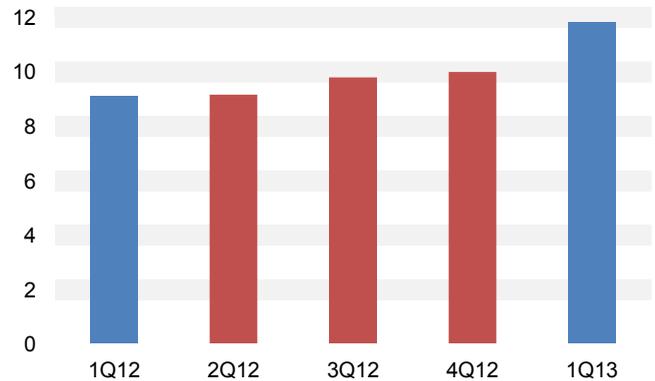

During the quarter, Opera continued to see strong growth in the number of Operator Opera Mini users from its existing agreements, notably from such customers as Airtel, MTN and Vodafone; the active user figures also include Skyfire Horizon active users from a major US operator, where active users are just starting to ramp up. At the end of March 2013, the total number of Opera and Skyfire active users with operators grew to 66.7 million, an increase of 114 % versus the end of March 2012.

Mobile Operator Active Users (million)

This increase in Operator active users, the roll out of WebPass and revenue from Skyfire have driven higher cloud based revenue from operators, which reached MUS$ 11.8 in 1Q13 compared to MUS$ 9.1 in 1Q12, an increase of 30%. Cloud based Operator license/data revenue reached 94% of total Operator revenue in 1Q13 compared to 87% in 1Q12.

Cloud based Mobile Operator License/Data Revenue (MUS$)

In 1Q13, Opera continued to expand its relationship with existing operator customers. During the quarter, Opera announced that VimpelCom will make Opera WebPass available across VimpelCom's operator brands in 18 countries and Bharti Airtel will make WebPass available in India. Moreover, Opera announced a new agreement with Telenor, which now includes Opera's email, application store, payment services and advertising solutions.

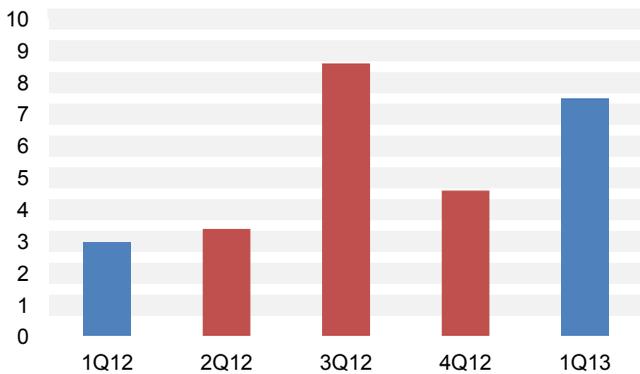

In 1Q13, Opera continued to expand its operator customer base, announcing that mCel (Mozambique) would launch a co-branded version of the Opera Mini web browser to its subscribers.

In 1Q13, as part of the Company's mission to expand the number of products and services the Company can offer its burgeoning operator customer base, Opera acquired privately-held Skyfire, a global leader in mobile video optimization and cloud solutions for mobility. Skyfire, headquartered in Mountain View, California, is best known for its cloud-based Rocket Optimizer™ mobile video optimization solution, which can detect when specific users are facing poor network connections and then intervene in milliseconds to improve network quality and performance for that user. Rocket Optimizer™ can minimize long start times, rebuffering, and stalls on video and audio streams that frustrate mobile users around the world.

With video expected to consume over two-thirds of global mobile bandwidth by 2015, and as time spent on Android and iOS devices continues to explode, Skyfire is a strong extension of Opera's solution set for operators. Opera's over 120 carrier relationships, global sales team, and delivery organization will work to accelerate the global commercialization of Skyfire's technology. In addition, integrating Opera's Mediaworks solutions into Skyfire Horizon™ will offer mobile operators the option of a complete turnkey solution, including ad optimization, ad sales, and rich analytics.

Mobile Consumers – Opera Owned and Operated Properties

Mobile Consumer Revenue (MUSD)

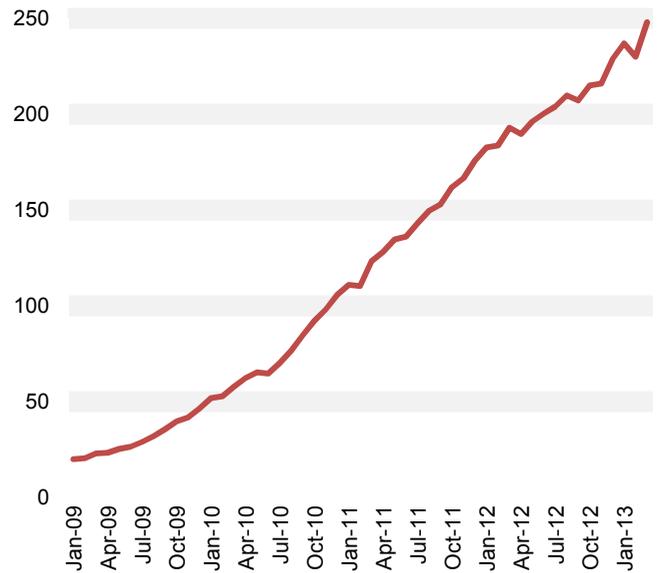

During the quarter, mobile Internet usage around the world continued to grow at a rapid pace. Based on statistics from Global Statcounter, 1.6 billion consumers accessed the Internet via a full Web mobile browser at the end of 1Q13, an increase of over 100% compared to 1Q12.

Opera continued to maintain its position as a global leading mobile consumer company. In March 2013, 249 million unique users worldwide browsed the Web using Opera's mobile con-

Active Monthly Opera Mobile Consumer Users (million)

Opera's tremendous worldwide success with mobile consumers across all mobile platforms has occurred because of Opera Mini. First, Opera Mini is faster than the competition, due to the up to 90% compression compared to a normal full Web browser. This makes for a much more enjoyable and efficient browsing experience for consumers. Second, Opera Mini is much cheaper for consumers – i.e., consumers save up to 90% browsing with Opera Mini compared to competitive products, due to Opera's unique proxy browsing technology. Third, Opera works on the vast majority of mobile phones, supporting more than 3,000 different mobile phone models. Fourth, Opera believes its user interface design and rendering quality is superior to the competition.

Opera.com continues to be the primary channel for distributing the Opera-branded version of Opera Mini. Opera has also focused on distribution via direct agreements with mobile OEMs and chip-set manufacturers, with these channels accounting for over 40% of Opera's mobile user base.

Opera Mini is also available on several handset vendor application stores, such as Apple's iPhone App Store, Google Play, BlackBerry App World and Nokia's Ovi Store.

From a platform standpoint, Opera has been putting significant focus on distribution of Opera on Android. In March 2013, the number of Opera users on Android reached 53.4 million, up 161% versus 1Q12. This makes Opera one of the leading third party browser applications on the Android platform.

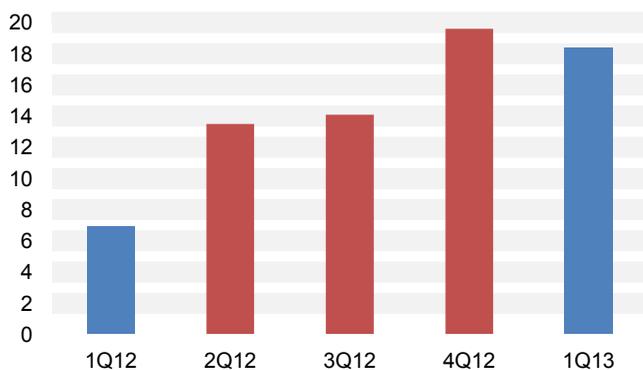

As part of its goal to fuel continued strong user growth on the Android platform, in 1Q13, Opera launched a Beta version of its new Android browser, which comes with an innovative way to discover web content via the browser. From the “Discover” panel of the startup screen, users can read a selection of popular articles and dig deeper into their interests, such as sports, technology, lifestyle and news. The new Opera for Android browser also sports a new version of its Speed Dial page, improved tabbed browsing capabilities and a combined search and address bar.

Opera is placing a significant emphasis on developing and expanding its owned and operated properties and capitalizing on its extensive mobile consumer user base. These owned and operated properties include the Speed Dial page, the Smartpage, the Opera Mobile Store and the soon to be launched Discover page. These Opera owned and operated properties are expected to be monetized primarily via mobile advertising, mobile search and mobile applications.

During the quarter, a total of 16.9 billion ad requests were generated from Opera’s owned and operated properties, an increase of 409% from 1Q12. In addition, during the quarter, the number of application downloads from OMS in 1Q13 reached 157 million, up 61% compared to Q1 2012.

Mobile Publishers & Advertisers – Opera Network Members

Mobile Publisher & Advertiser Revenue (Opera Network Members) (MUSD)

The global advertising industry continues to experience a macro shift in advertising spend from traditional offline channels, such as print, television and radio, to online channels, with mobile taking an increasing share of the online/Internet medium. This macro shift from offline to online has been fueled by several factors, namely, the increasing amount of time consumers spend online and the fact that digital advertising compared to traditional offline advertising enables much better targeting, provides opportunities for more user interaction, and provides better measurement capabilities.

The rapid growth in mobile advertising in particular is being fueled by a number of factors: (i) reach and “anytime-anywhere” access to users – there are more than 5 billion mobile phone users worldwide (compared to around 2 billion desktop users, for example); (ii) strong targeting characteristics – advertisers are able to glean meaningful amounts of aggregated information about mobile users, such as location, demographics and behavior; (iii) high performance and user response rates from Android and iOS smartphone devices in particular, which support highly interactive and entertaining ad formats due to advanced display technologies, strong graphics processors and fast processing speeds; (iv) wider spread access to high speed wireless data networks, which enables the consumption of high quality and rich media content on mobile devices; and (v) rapid growth in the mobile app economy, as developers have been able to create intuitive and interactive ways to deliver content on mobile devices, capitalizing on native operating system software development kits which facilitate the full harnessing of a mobile device’s processing capabilities and functionality.

Opera’s goal is to power the mobile advertising ecosystem through innovative and differentiated mobile advertising services and technology solutions, targeting premium and performance advertisers, ad agencies, publishers and developers. Opera’s ultimate mission is to help both publishers increase revenue from their mobile properties and content and advertisers reach and acquire potential customers.

Through Opera’s mobile advertising subsidiaries, Mobile Theory (USA) and 4th Screen Advertising (UK) and Opera’s mobile ad technology platform, AdMarvel, Opera is able to offer premium mobile advertisers the ability to build their brands and engage with consumers by offering creative services, sophisticated targeting capabilities, significant audience and publisher reach, high levels of transparency and measurability on ad campaigns and support for highly interactive and engaging advertising experiences on a full range of mobile devices, including display banner ads, interactive rich media ads and video ads.

For premium mobile publishers and developers, Opera offers technology solutions and services, highly intuitive reporting and analytical tools and access to premium advertisers (via both Opera’s owned and third party mobile ad networks), helping these publishers maximize revenue from their content and user base. At the core of Opera’s success with premium publishers and developers is AdMarvel and the AdMarvel technology platform and software development kit (SDK). AdMarvel’s success with premium publishers stems from three major sources: (i) Its Ad Serving capabilities (powerful rich media ad serving, targeting and analytics), (ii) Its Ad Mediation (ad performance optimization and transparency and control over ad network traffic from over 100 ad sources from around the world) and (iii) Its Campaign Management capabilities (management, uploading, scheduling and control of “house” ads and directly sourced advertising). These capabilities have helped AdMarvel publisher customers drive higher fill rates and CPMs and ultimately higher revenue.

Overall, Opera’s USA based mobile advertising subsidiaries work, both directly and indirectly, with 70 out of the Top 100 Ad Age Advertisers in the United States. In addition, Opera globally powers advertising for 20 of the top 25 global media companies and manages more than 50 billion monthly ad requests for advertisers and publishers around the world.

Advertisers which ran campaigns via Opera’s Mobile Publisher and Advertiser business in 1Q13 include American Express, Audi, Lufthansa, McDonalds, Microsoft, Starbucks, and Walmart.

In the quarter, Opera revenue in the Mobile Publisher and Advertiser business (Opera Network Members) grew 166% compared to 1Q12.

Revenue in 1Q13 compared to 1Q12 was fueled by expanded business with existing advertiser and publisher customers as well as new customers. Revenue growth from both our mobile advertiser and mobile publisher customers, who provide content via mobile Web properties and mobile applications, continues to be strongest on Smartphone and tablet devices, with iOS and Android constituting the leading platforms.

In the quarter, the number of applications and websites powered by Opera grew to over 13,000, up from over 12,000 in 1Q12, and the number of advertising impressions managed grew to 163 billion in 1Q13 compared to 86 billion in 1Q12, an increase of 89%. Opera’s platform reach was over 250 million consumers (Opera Network Members) in 1Q13, compared to 140 million consumers (Opera Network Members) in 1Q12

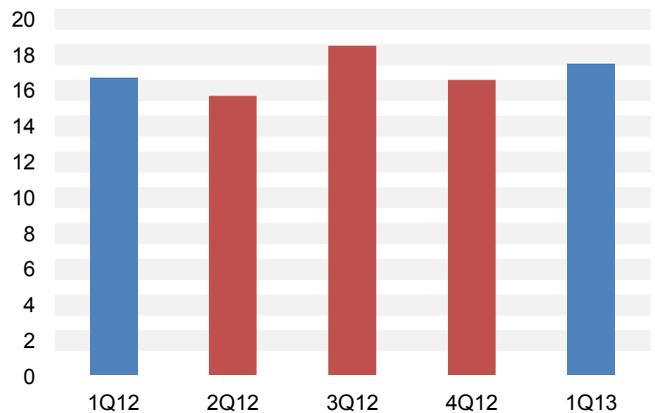

In 1Q13, Opera Software announced the launch of the Opera Mediaworks brand, which is Opera’s “go-to-market” brand name for its global advertising business.

Also announced in 1Q13 was a new performance-based mobile advertising platform called Opera Mediaworks Performance, which provides advertisers with comprehensive tools to better reach their target audience and acquire new customers. Opera Mediaworks Performance facilitates real-time targeting, real-time bidding (RTB) and real-time reporting on mobile ad campaigns.

Overall, Opera Mediaworks Performance significantly enhances Opera’s ability to help advertisers with performance or “cost per action” campaigns, such as campaigns for driving app downloads and securing customer sign-ups and leads. This means that Opera is expanding our offering within the significant mobile performance advertising market, as a complement to the large premium mobile display advertising market opportunity.

Desktop Consumers

Revenue Desktop (MUSD)

Today, the desktop browser is more powerful a platform than ever. This is seen most saliently with the clear dominance of Web applications over device-centric computing. This trend is no more pronounced than with social networking, where Facebook, for example, has more than 500 million desktop users. In addition, the rapid adoption and innovation around HTML5 is making Web applications more powerful and always available. For example, playing video without the need for third-party applications or plug-ins and using geo-location to provide locally targeted information are some clear examples where HTML5 is making the browser and browser-based applications much more powerful than in the past.

Since the first public release in 1995, Opera has continuously delivered browser innovation to desktop PCs. Opera’s desktop browser provides its users with a safe, efficient and enjoyable browsing experience.

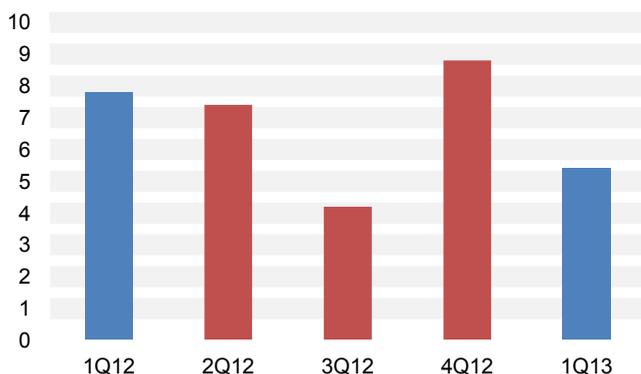

Today, the vast majority of Opera’s desktop users are in the Russia/CIS region and in the emerging markets. Opera is particularly focused on growing users in regions where it already has a strong base of users, such as Russia.

Opera's monetization strategy for its desktop browser revolves predominantly around search. Google is Opera's global search partner and provides the majority of desktop monetization. This global partnership is supplemented by local search partnerships in certain markets, such as Russia, Japan, and China, where Opera works with Yandex, Yahoo! Japan and Baidu, respectively. In addition, Opera has signed up e-commerce players such as Amazon.com (USA, Germany, Japan), Booking.com (64 countries), and Ozon (Russia) to further enhance ARPU.

In March 2013, the number of Desktop users was approximately 55 million, down 8% versus March 2012. ARPU (Average Revenue Per User) increased 11% in 1Q13 compared to 1Q12. The main contributors to higher ARPU in the quarter versus 1Q12 were strong growth in revenue from local search providers such as Yandex and from content partners such as Booking.com, and revenue from a strategic agreement with one of our important search partners.

Device OEMs

Device OEM Revenue (MUSD)

As device manufacturers seek to enhance their relationships with and provide compelling applications and services to their consumers, they are increasingly developing Internet-connected devices.

Traditionally, television has been referred to as a “lean back” medium, where interaction is passive. Today, television manufacturers are trying to encourage consumers to become more actively engaged with their TV sets, referred to as a “lean-forward” model, by providing Web applications, Web browsing and other digital content on TVs. This has been spurred not only by the desire of the TV manufacturers to differentiate, obtain premium pricing for their product offerings and generate new revenue streams, but also by the perceived opportunity to bring many of the same services that have been deployed successfully in the mobile phone eco-system, such as mobile Web browsing and application stores, to their TV consumer customers.

With the Opera Devices Software Developer Kit (SDK), device manufacturers are able to offer not only Web browsing capabilities and full Internet access to their operator and consumer end customers, but also customized Web applications which are accessible from the home screen of the device. Moreover, with the Opera Devices SDK, device manufacturers are able to use their own (and third-party) developers to enable full Web browsing, create user interfaces, widgets and menu systems using Web technologies, such as HTML5 and CSS, HbbTV and OIPF, while accelerating time to market for new consumer electronic devices.

The Opera TV Store, an HTML5-based app store for connected TVs, set-top boxes and media players, offers a selection of high-quality, easily navigated web apps. Side-by-side applications allow viewers to use TV apps without losing focus on the program they are watching. The Opera TV Store has also been enhanced with the ability to display ads, thereby enabling publishers and content providers to inject pre-roll ads and to monetize their applications.

In 1Q13, Opera announced that MediaTek Inc., a leading fabless semiconductor company for wireless communications and digital multimedia solutions, has integrated the Opera TV Store into its Smart TV solution. Manufacturers that implement MediaTek chipsets can now provide web functionality and application environments for their TVs, set-top boxes and media players.

Opera currently has license agreements with a wide range of consumer electronic device OEMs, including Entone, Huawei, Humax, Loewe, Mediatek, Nintendo, Pioneer, Philips, Sagem, Sharp, Sony, Technicolor, Technisat, Toshiba, TP Vision, Verifone, and Vestel.

Outlook

Opera remains positive about the Company's overall growth prospects, which is expected to be driven primarily by its mobile businesses going forward.

Within its mobile business, Opera continues to drive a compelling value proposition for operators, helping them increase data and services revenue streams and profitability. With the acquisition of Skyfire, Opera has added a robust portfolio of smartphone targeted products and services which the Company can now offer to existing and prospective operator customers. As a result, Opera expects to generate solid revenue growth from its operator business in 2013.

Moreover, Opera continues to deliver a very compelling value proposition to its rapidly burgeoning mobile consumer base, providing a fast and data saving, and thereby cheaper, browsing experience. Opera's strategy is to capitalize on its close to 250 million mobile browser user base by building and expanding Opera's owned and operated properties and monetizing these properties via mobile advertising, mobile search and mobile applications.

Within Opera's Mobile Publisher & Advertiser business (Opera Network Members), Opera expects to generate meaningfully more revenue from this business in 2013 compared to 2012, as Opera continues to ramp up revenue directly from advertisers and ad agencies via its mobile advertising network subsidiaries, Mobile Theory and 4th Screen Advertising, and capitalize on AdMarvel's strong position with premium USA publishers.

Opera's key operational priorities going into 2013 include continuing to (i) sign operator agreements for Opera's existing and new products and services, including Skyfire's; (ii) grow revenues and users of Opera's mobile consumer products, particularly on the Android and iOS smartphone platforms, and expand usage and monetization of Opera's owned and operated properties; (iii) increase revenue from Mobile Publishers and Advertisers (Opera Network Members), by expanding Opera's demand side advertising reach and capabilities; (iv) grow Opera's desktop user base, particularly in Russia/CIS; and (v) increase Opera's overall profitability and margins.

Earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted ordinary shares in issue during the period.

The average stock exchange price for 1Q 2013, and year to date, is used when calculating the options that are "in the money" and when calculating the fully diluted number of shares. The options have varying exercise prices and would, upon exercise, mean payment to the Company of MNOK 197.1 (YTD: 197.1) In relation to the accounting standard regarding earnings per share, the effect of these funds being used by the Company to purchase shares in the market should be considered when calculating the fully diluted number of shares outstanding. Opera has included options with a strike price below NOK 36.12 (YTD: 36.12) when calculating the fully diluted number of shares outstanding. Total options used in the calculations are 8,177,612 (YTD: 8,177,612), of which 5,957,262 (YTD: 5,957,262) options are unvested and 2,220,350 (YTD: 2,220,350) are vested but not yet exercised.

Note 8 - Financial Information

Opera has chosen to include more information regarding currency risk as of March 31, 2013.

The majority of the financial risk carried by the Group, as a result of its subsidiaries, relates to foreign exchange fluctuations. Both sales and expenses are exposed to currency risk.

Most of the Company's foreign exchange risk relates to sales and is the result of revenue contracts signed in EUR and other currencies. In 1Q 2013, approximately 76% (YTD: 76%) of revenues were in USD and 15% (YTD: 15%) in EUR; for expenses, approximately 49% (YTD: 49%) were in USD, 22% (YTD: 22%) in NOK, 6% (YTD: 6%) in PLN, 6% (YTD: 6%) in SEK, 5% (YTD: 5%) in GBP, 3% (YTD: 3%) in CNY, and 9% (YTD: 9%) in other currencies.

Foreign currency movements had impact on Opera's 4Q 2012 income statement in the following way: Revenue would have been approximately MUSD 62.0 (higher by approximately 0%) using the 1Q 2012 constant currency FX rates and revenue would have been approximately MUSD 62.0 (lower by approximately 0%) using the 4Q 2012 constant currency FX rates. The majority of the Company's purchases are made in the following denominations: NOK, USD, SEK, PLN, GBP, JPY, CNY, KRW, TWD, AUD, UAH, ISK, SGD, EUR and INR. Exchange rate fluctuations in these currencies do impact Opera's income statement.

Skyfire Labs, Inc.

On March 14, 2013, Opera Software ASA acquired 100% of the shares and voting interest of the privately-held company Skyfire Labs, Inc., a leader in mobile video optimization and cloud solutions for mobility. Opera believes Skyfire adds capabilities to our portfolio around video, app optimization, smartphones, and tablets, and strength in North America, and we are excited to extend Opera's solutions for operators.

Skyfire, headquartered in Mountain View, California, is known for its Rocket Optimizer software. This allows mobile operators to leverage cloud computing to optimize virtually any video and other multimedia on crowded cell towers, including 3G and 4G LTE networks. Rocket Optimizer on average provides mobile networks a significant boost in capacity by reducing the size of video and other multimedia content as needed to fit the available bandwidth. Skyfire can detect when specific users are facing poor quality of experience or connections that need assistance, and intervenes in milliseconds. This can minimize the long start times, rebuffering, and stalls on video and audio streams that frustrate mobile users around the world. The approach aligns with the trend toward SDN (software-defined networking) and NFV (network function virtualization) among telecommunications operators, thanks to its elastic and virtualization-friendly cloud architecture.

Skyfire also offers Skyfire Horizon, a mobile browser extension and toolbar platform that allows users to personalize their smartphone browsers and operators to gain new monetization opportunities.

The acquisition price includes a mix of cash and stock, with an upfront consideration of MUSD 49.0 (including MUSD 8.2 of cash on the Skyfire balance sheet) and performance-based earnout payments over three years, including MUSD 25.7 in cash held in escrow and funded upfront, that can bring the total deal size to MUSD 155.2.

Operators: Opera is a trusted partner for operators globally. The Company currently offers four major cloud based solutions and services to Operators worldwide: (i) Operator/Co-branded versions of Opera Mini, whereby Operators are able to offer their mass market subscribers content compression, fast Internet download speeds, convenient access to operator portal services in order to drive incremental revenue, and lower priced data plans and data packages, capitalizing on the up 90% data compression that Opera's cloud services enables; (ii) Skyfire Rocket Optimizer™, which allows mobile operators to leverage cloud computing to optimize and compress video and other multimedia traffic on crowded cell towers, including 3G and 4G LTE networks, enabling operators to both boost the capacity of their networks by up to 60% and offer better network performance and quality to their subscribers; (iii) Skyfire Horizon™, a mobile browser extension and toolbar platform that allows users to personalize their smartphone browser and operators to gain new monetization opportunities, such as advertising; and (iv) Opera WebPass, which allows users to easily buy time-based or content-based mobile data packages through a simple, one-click purchase, similar to how users buy apps today, enabling operators to both offer a broad array of personalized data package alternatives for their subscribers and increase average revenue generated per subscriber.

Mobile Consumers (Opera-owned-and-operated properties): Opera has around 250 million mobile users of consumer products on a monthly basis. Opera is placing a significant emphasis on developing and expanding its owned and operated properties and capitalizing on its extensive mobile consumer user base. These owned and operated properties include the Speed Dial page, the Smartpage, the Opera Mobile Store and the soon to be launched Discover page. These Opera owned and operated properties are expected to be monetized primarily via mobile advertising, mobile search and mobile applications.

Mobile Publishers and Advertisers (Opera Network Members): Opera's goal is to power the mobile advertising ecosystem through innovative and differentiated mobile advertising services and technology solutions, targeting premium and performance advertisers, ad agencies, publishers and developers. Opera's ultimate mission is to help both publishers increase revenue from their mobile properties and content and advertisers reach and acquire potential customers

Desktop Consumers: Since the first public release in 1995, Opera has continuously delivered browser innovation to desktop PCs. Opera's desktop browser provides its users with a safe, efficient and enjoyable browsing experience. Today, the vast majority of Opera's desktop users are in the Russia/CIS region and in the emerging markets. Opera is particularly focused on growing users in regions where it already has a strong base of users, such as Russia.

Global Device Original Equipment Manufacturers (Device OEMs): With the Opera Devices Software Developer Kit (SDK), device manufacturers are able to offer not only Web browsing capabilities and full Internet access to their operator and consumer end customers, but also customized Web applications which are accessible from the home screen of the device. Moreover, with the Opera Devices SDK, device manufacturers are able to use their own (and third-party) developers to enable full Web browsing, create user interfaces, widgets and menu systems using Web technologies, such as HTML5 and CSS, HbbTV and OIPF, while accelerating time to market for new consumer electronic devices.
